

rival (n., v.): رقیب، رقابت کردن، برابری کردن

Their many restaurants are sophisticated and serve dishes rivalling the best to be found in Europe.

rumor (n., v.): شایعه، شایع کردن

Since their split, rumors have been rife as to why they actually separated.

arouse (v.): برانگیختن، خشمگین کردن

They arouse feelings of nostalgia, but are still manufactured for use today.

compromise (n., v.): سازش(کردن)،(توافق کردن)

It is anticipated that the two sides will reach a compromise and agree a four-year phase-out for Shannon.

whim(n.): هوس

When I started this weblog last October, it was more or less on a whim.

aroma (n.): بوی خوش، عطر

As we arrived, we could smell the aromas of the food outside the house.

verbose (adj.): طولانی، پرچانه

And this is so not because of the depth of his arguments, but because of the repulsively repetitive and verbose style of the book.